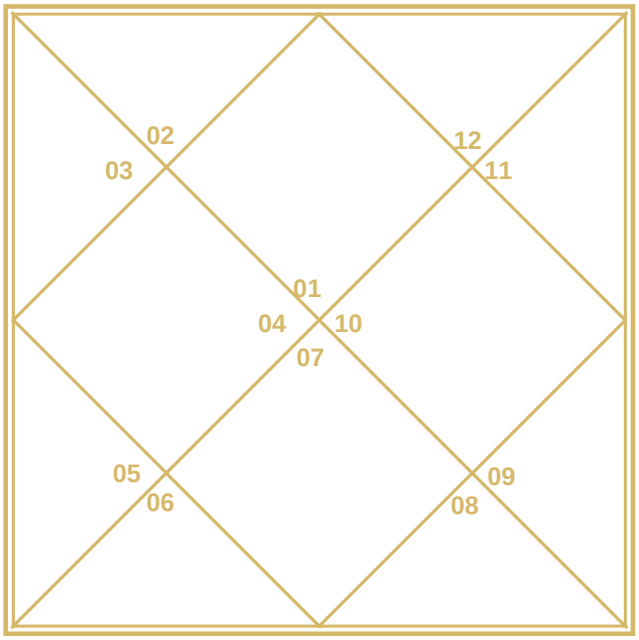
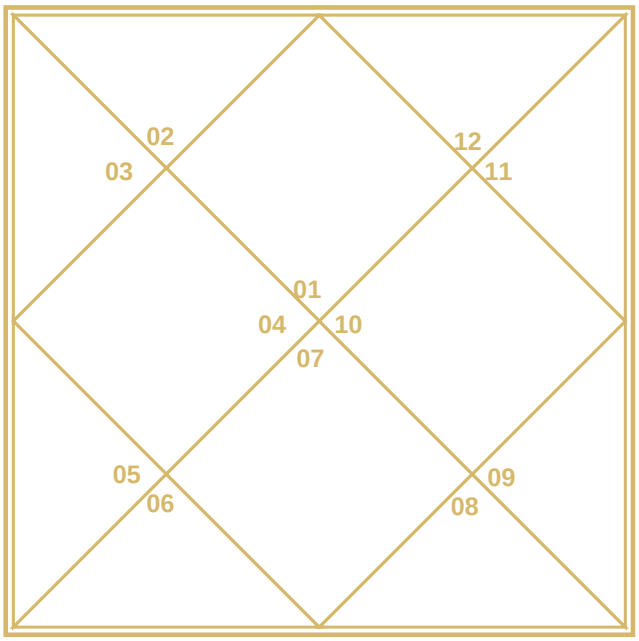
Horoscope Charts

Lagna Chart (Birth Chart)



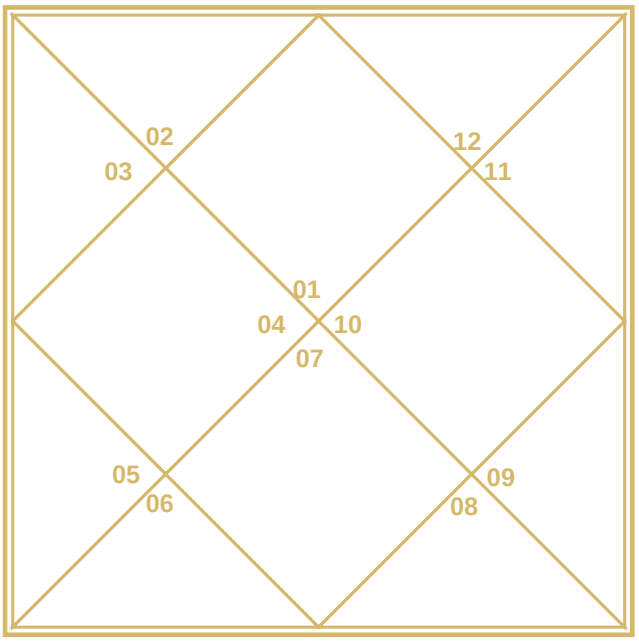
The Birth Chart, or Lagna Chart (D1), is the most fundamental map of the heavens at the exact moment of your birth. It reveals your physical body, general character, life path, and overall destiny. The Ascendant or Lagna represents your self, personality, and how you approach the world. Planetary positions in the 12 houses of this chart indicate strengths and challenges across various life areas such as career, relationships, health, and wealth. This chart serves as the primary foundation for all astrological predictions and offers a comprehensive snapshot of your life's potential.

Moon Chart



The Moon Chart, or Chandra Kundali, places the Moon in the first house and is analyzed to understand your emotional nature, mental well-being, and subconscious patterns. Since the Moon governs the mind and emotions, this chart is crucial for assessing your reactions to life events, your inner happiness, and your social interactions. In Vedic Astrology, planetary transits (Gochara) are primarily studied from the Moon Chart. It complements the Birth Chart by revealing how you perceive and emotionally experience the destiny indicated by the Lagna Chart, essentially showing the lens through which you view your life.

Navamsa Chart (D9)



The Navamsa Chart (D9) is the most important divisional chart, used to assess the strength and dignity of planets in the Birth Chart. While the D1 chart shows the 'tree' of your life, the D9 chart reveals the 'fruit' or the actual outcome of planetary influences. It is specifically analyzed for marriage, partnerships, and spiritual growth. A planet that is strong in the Birth Chart but weak in the Navamsa may fail to deliver lasting results. Conversely, a planet weak in D1 but strong in D9 can provide unexpected success. It represents your inner potential and long-term fortune.
